DAY MONTH 2025

ACADEMIC MASTER IN CINEMA AND NEW FORMATS PRODUCTION SCHOLARSHIP REGULATION – JAN 2026

For the January 26 intake, RUFA is granting 1 scholarship to Italian and international students who are enrolling in the Academic Master in CINEMA AND NEW FORMATS PRODUCTION.

1. Brief

Stories worth living, screening, and watching.

When it comes to films, series, documentaries, short videos, advertising, podcasts, we enjoy and engage with very different content.

Of course, different audiences require different strategies, networks, and funding options.

Different partners are interested in conveying different messages, hence choosing the appropriate distribution and communication channels, to hit the ideal target audience in an effective way.

The role of the production company is continuously evolving, and producers must always question their options: How can I distribute an independent film other than in movie theaters? How can I pitch this series to a streaming platform? How can I carry on the values of a heritage production house? How can I keep the budget within the expected amount? How to adjust a direction style depending on my client? Can I access public funding? Can I access broadcaster funding?

Global issues, niche topics, cultural shifts, intimate stories, and attractive brand experiences can all be valuable content for a documentary, a film, or a series. The script can already exist, entirely or partially, or it can be a rough idea, as long it means something for someone. The aim is to boost interest in the project and communicate value to potential investors and co-producers.

Participants should imagine and articulate a basic pitch deck to propose an idea to a production company. In developing an original project to address this challenge, participants should observe the following requirements:

- Present yourself by creating a 'self-portrait' to illustrate who you are and the world you live in (your city, your network, your belongings, etc.). Show us your passions, fears, and desires, as well as your loves and your hates. You may work via any technique you wish. As noted above, this includes words, images, videos, or a combination of different media.
- Conduct research on a topic that is of particular interest to you. You can either identify a n original script/storyline, or an adaptation from another work (as long as it is out of copyright which implies that the author(s) must have been dead for more than 70 years), or an issue that you would like to explore with an original direction.
- Develop your proposal. Choose the genre: feature or documentary film, feature or documentary series, commercial or branded content. Draft the synopsis. Outline your style inspiration and casting ideas. Explain who is the target audience and what channel you intend to use. Express your ideas through words, images, or a short video presentation.
